St. Paul Continued Active.

The pronounced feature of the stock market was the strength and activity in St. Paul and Atchison common, which led all issues in the activity and volume of the sales.

The limited volume of commission house business had a tendency to react on the stocks which seemed to advance more rapkily than the orders seemed to justify. The belief that manipulation was chiefly responsible for some of the gains scored was also added to the duiness.

gains scored was also added to the dulness.

In the industrial list Amalgamated Copper was the weakest feature. The selling in this was pronounced though not aggressive, on the fear that the directors at Thursday's meeting night decide, to still further reduce the dividend.

Colorado Fuel showed a tendency to advance, but after reoring an increase of nearly two points reacted on the report that Harris. Gates & Co. were selling stocks heavily in several issues. This was considered a reflection of the corn fight in Chicago and had its effect upon the stocks in which the Westerners chiefly deal.

A feature of the peculiar market conditions was the buying orders that developed on all slight recessions in the leading issues.

The foreign exchange market was
